ACTIONS:

[Redacted]

25X1

2. DCI noted that the Stanford Research Institute has completed a study of the prospects for Communist China as a nuclear power. It is a study said to be based on unique analytical methods and was prepared for Secretary McNamara. Discussion of this subject indicated that the Stanford Research Institute has also completed a study of NIKE-X as a means to cope with any Chinese ICBM. DIA has completed an intelligence assessment of Chinese missile prospects. DCI requests Agency analysis of these matters. (DD/I, in collaboration with DD/S&T -- 29 October)

3. DDCI noted that application of security criteria in dealing with [Redacted] categories rests upon a Presidential letter going back as far as 1960. He requests a fresh analysis of these categories. Executive Director is to be informed, by memo, of the nature of this problem, particularly as it relates to opening up the reconnaissance field in an effort to move ahead with disarmament. (DD/S and DD/I -- memo to Executive Director by 15 October)
